V - Evaluation parameters and seriation in relative merit, respective weighting and final evaluation system

The curricular evaluation focuses on the activities developed by the applicants, in the disciplinary area of the tender, and its adequacy to the position of Assistant Professor, considering the following parameters and respective weightings: scientific performance (50%), pedagogic capacity (40%) and other activities relevant to the University's mission (10%).

The evaluation of each parameter is based on the components indicated below and will be expressed on a scale of 0-100 points.

A) Scientific Performance, with a weighting of 50%. In the assessment of scientific performance, the following components of the parameter will be considered:

a) Scientific production - Quality and quantity of scientific production (books, book chapters, Articles in indexed international journals, communications at conferences) expressed, namely, by the number and type of publications in indexed international journals and by the recognition given to them by the scientific community (translated as the quality and reference made to them by other authors) (45%);

b) Participation in scientific research projects with external funding, taking into consideration the project's dimension, scientific-technological level, degree of innovation and project results, including final evaluation when applicable (20%);

c) Supervision of academic work: supervision of advanced training, namely supervision of master's degrees and doctorates (10%);

d) Participation as an editor of international journals, reviewer of publications in international journals, applications for research grants or advanced training and scientific projects (10%).

e) Intervention in the scientific and professional communities associated with Pharmaceutical Sciences — Ability to intervene in the scientific and professional communities expressed, namely, through the organization and participation in events, association with professional organizations, collaboration in the publication of journals, presentation of guest lectures and consultancy activities (10%).

f) Career development plan containing objectives, scientific-pedagogical development plan and synopsis of the line of research that the candidate intends to implement (5%).

B) Pedagogical capacity, with a weighting of 40%. The following components of the parameter will be considered when assessing pedagogical capacity:

a) Lecturing - Quality and diversity of the lecturing activity developed by the applicant, taking into account, among other relevant factors, the results of opinion polls (e. g., pedagogic surveys), which should be mentioned in the curriculum, whenever available (70%);

b) Participation in juries of academic examinations (10%);

c) Other pedagogic activities - Quality and quantity of pedagogic material and publications of a pedagogic nature produced by the applicant, other activities with an impact on the teaching-learning process carried out by the applicant, including training internships for young graduates or masters (20%).

C) Other relevant activities for the University's mission, with a weighting of 10%. In the evaluation of other relevant activities, the following components of the parameter will be considered:

a) Participation in management activities in institutions of higher education/business or research in the area of Pharmaceutical Sciences or in other entities of a scientific, technological or cultural nature that carry out relevant activities within the scope of the mission (20%);

b) Participation in actions and publications of scientific, cultural or technological dissemination (20%);

c) Participation in the development of outreach projects including scientific dissemination and the provision of services to the scientific/educational community, the economic-productive fabric and/or society in general (40%);

d) Organization of scientific or educational events in the scientific area of the application (20%).

VI - Selection process in relative merit

1 - The methodology for selection in relative merit is the following:

a) During the meeting, each member of the selection committee will submit a written document, which will be annexed to the meeting minutes, stating their own ordering of the applicants, of the applicants' scientific performance, pedagogic skills and other relevant activities, and their respective weights. At each ballot, every member of the selection committee will abide by the ordering they submitted and abstentions are not permitted.

b) The first ballot is intended to determine which applicant is placed at the top of the ordered list.

c) If an applicant obtains more than half of the votes, they shall be ranked first in the ordered list;

d) If two applicants obtain exactly half of the votes each, the president of the selection committee has the casting vote to decide which is ranked first in the ordered list. The jury president will use as tie-breaking criteria the date the Doctoral degree was conferred, the most recent prevailing;

- e) If neither of these two cases c) and d) occurs, a new ballot will take place after elimination of applicants who obtained no or at least one vote in the previous ballot;
- f) If there is a draw between two or more applicants for the position of least-voted, another ballot shall be held to determine which of the least-voted applicants shall be eliminated. In this ballot, selection committee members vote for the applicant ranked last in their own seriation;
- g) If there is still a draw between two or more applicants, the selection committee president will decide which shall be eliminated. The selection committee president will use as tie-breaking criteria the date the Doctoral degree was conferred, the most recent prevailing;
- h) After this applicant has been eliminated along with the applicants who received no votes in the first ballot, another ballot will be held to decide which applicant shall be ranked first in the ordered list, applying the same procedure outlined until one applicant obtains more than half the votes for first place;
- i) Once an applicant has been placed first on the ordered list, his or her name shall be removed from the voting and the process will be repeated to find the second-placed applicant, and so on until all the applicants have been ordered.
