V - Evaluation parameters and seriation in relative merit, respective weighting and final evaluation system

The evaluation and ranking based on relative merit is based on the ranking criteria and their respective weighting identified below, resulting in the ordering of the weighted average of the quantitative scores obtained in each of the evaluation parameters, within a scale of 0 - 100 points:

Curricular Evaluation (100%);

The Curricular Evaluation focuses on activities developed by the candidates in the area and/or sub-areas and/or disciplinary groups of the tender, and suitable for the position of Full Professor, considering the following parameters:

A) Scientific Performance (50%);

B) Pedagogical Capacity (30%);

C) Other activities relevant to the mission of the University (20%).

A) Scientific Performance (50%) of the candidate in the area and/or sub-areas and/or disciplinary groups for which the tender is open, considering the following evaluation parameters:

a) Scientific publications: books, book chapters, articles in scientific journals, and proceedings of international conferences of which the candidate was the author or co-author, considering: their nature; the impact factor; the number of quotes; the technological level; innovation; the significance of contributions to the advancement of the current state of knowledge and to the development and evolution of the disciplinary area/sub-area for which the tender is open (40%);

b) Scientific projects: coordination and participation in scientific projects within competitive programs, distinguishing between national and international programs. The ability to attract competitive funding and the challenges and results (scientific and/or technological and/or innovative) should be highlighted (20%);

c) Autonomy and leadership: participation in and coordination of initiatives for the implementation or enhancement of experimental and/or computational laboratory infrastructures to support research. Coordination and leadership of research teams (20%);

d) Peer recognition: awards from scientific societies or obtained at scientific meetings, editorial and review activities in scientific journals, peer review activities (programs, projects, grants, awards), coordination or participation in program committees for scientific events, invited lectures at scientific meetings or other universities, participation as a member of competitively admitted scientific societies, and other similar distinctions (10%);

e) Career development plan: the potential contribution of the submitted document to the scientific and pedagogical development of the area/subarea and disciplinary groups of the application, related to this tender will be evaluated, with the aim of promoting the associated teaching and research activities (10%).

B) Pedagogical capacity (30%) considering the following evaluation parameters:

a) Teaching: teaching of coordinated and/or taught curricular units, and/or related to the area/sub-area of the tender: diversity and, if possible, the range of students and results of surveys on teaching activity (pedagogical) (40%);

b) Pedagogical innovation: promotion of new pedagogical initiatives: well-founded and coherent proposals for the creation and/or reformulation of curricular units, creation or enhancement of laboratory infrastructures to support teaching (experimental and/or computational in nature), and creation or restructuring of groups of curricular units or study plans (30%);

c) Student supervision: a parameter that takes into account the supervision of doctoral students, master's students, and undergraduate students. Cases of supervision, co-supervision, or guidance should be distinguished (30%).

C) Other relevant activities (20%), considering the following evaluation parameters:

a) Participation in management activities in higher education institutions/business or research entities or in other organizations of a scientific, technological, or cultural nature that carry out activities relevant to the mission of the former (40%);

b) Participation in actions and publications for scientific, cultural, or technological dissemination, development of extension projects, and provision of services to the scientific/educational community, with an emphasis on the area to which the candidate is applying (30%);

c) Organization of scientific or educational events in the area to which the candidate is applying (30%);

VI - Selection process in relative merit

1. The methodology for selection in relative merit is the following:

a) Before voting begins, each member of the selection committee will submit a written document, which will be annexed to the meeting minutes, stating their own ordering of the applicants, of the applicants' scientific performance, pedagogic skills, other relevant activities, with their respective weights. At each ballot, every member of the selection committee will abide by the ordering they submitted, and abstentions are not permitted;

b) The first ballot is intended to determine which applicant is placed at the top of the ordered list;

c) If an applicant obtains more than half of the votes, he/she shall be ranked first in the ordered list;

d) If two applicants obtain exactly half of the votes, the president of the selection committee breaks the tie by choosing for the first place on the ranked list the one who has the longest standing in the category and if the tie persists, the one who has the oldest date of obtaining the doctoral degree;

- e) If neither of those two cases occurs (c and d), a new vote will be held after removing the candidates who did not receive any votes in the first voting and also eliminating the least voted candidate but who received at least one vote;
- f) If there is a draw between two or more applicants for the position of least-voted, another ballot shall be held to determine which of the least-voted applicants shall be eliminated. At this ballot, selection committee members vote for the applicant ranked last in their own seriation;
- g) If there is still a draw between two or more applicants, the selection committee president breaks the tie by eliminating the candidate with the least seniority in the category, and if the tie still remains, the one who has the most recent date of obtaining the doctoral degree;
- h) After this applicant has been eliminated along with the applicants who received no votes in the first ballot, another ballot will be held to decide which applicant shall be ranked first in the ordered list, continuing to use the same procedure until one applicant obtains more than half the votes for the first place;
- i) Once an applicant has been placed first on the ordered list, his or her name shall be removed from the voting and the process will be repeated to find the second-placed applicant, and so on, until all the applicants have been ordered.
